Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Raymond of Fairhaven visited St. Johnsbury Tuesday. Mr. Raymond, of Fairhaven is a graduate of St. Johnsbury Academy and the state chairman of the $5,000,000 drive for Amherst College. Mr. Raymond's visit to St. Johnsbury was to confer with the five Amherst graduates in this town.

Lawyer C. H. Howford of Woodville was a business visitor to St. Johnsbury Friday.

Presented by a big company of nearly fifty people, the new version of the brilliant musical spectacle, "The Suller Girl," coming to the Colonial Theatre, Wednesday evening, Dec. 8, offers three hours of the most novel and entertaining musical show presented the theatre-going public in the past decade. A smashing hit from its first performance playing to capacity houses night after night, goes to prove that this clever musical comedy offers something different. There are two acts—the opening is laid at Miami, Florida. Colonel Stone's home overlooking Biscayne Bay, where an evening of safety, a Pete, is in progress in honor of "overcast" boys and girls. The act then shows a grand production of 75 Colles in rehearsal on the roof of a New York theater with a gorgeous production, and the change of costume and scene is bewildering in frequency.

The unbelievable, the impossible in picture are accomplished with splendid results in the mammoth seven part picture "The Jungle Princess," showing at the Palace U today. It is the picture realistic, the picture stupendous. Filled with thrills, adventure, love, and wonder. Marvellous scenery and animal acting. Its unusual! Unbelievable! You will want to see it and all the rest of the family.

A mile-a-minute romance of frenzied romance, fluttering hearts and of a dashing young broker whose dizzy race made Wall Street gasp for breath, such is "The Plunger," starring George Walsh. A two-million-dollar estate provides the background for this picture: smart society, gorgeous settings and exquisite scenes together with the madcap, frenzied crowds in the Stock Exchange provides an entertaining romance and one of the season's best entertainments. Virginia Valli, the girl with the perfect profile, plays opposite the star and the story is by Thomas F. Fallon, the author of "While New York Sleeps."

Shows 10c, Friday and Saturday 12c, Dec. 10 and 11, St. Andrew's Parish House. adv.
All members of the St. Johnsbury Women's Club should plan to be present Monday afternoon promptly at 2 o'clock at important business to be transacted.
